

Your Journey Forward

Continued care—when it matters most

After the service, many families find it helpful to have a time to reconnect—ask questions, receive important items, and feel supported. That’s what this aftercare appointment is for. It’s a gentle follow-up, usually scheduled a week or two after the funeral, to help you navigate the next steps with care and clarity.

This journey is yours, but you don’t have to travel it alone.
